Conclusion:- I think can is a good project

Because you are learning something new using the internet which bring you a great facility to learn whatever you want to learn in a simple way, Just using a internet like reading watching videos you would be able to learn something useful.

I learned how to make a program portable and was pretty easy to learn it because you have everything in the internet you have just searched information. video and that was enough to make me able to develop a program portable.

I also learned at school and at home you can learn whatever you want that is the internet and you can learn it at any time.
